ESTABLISHED AND PUBLISHED DAILY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.

120 Main Street, between Market and Jefferson.

LOUISVILLE, KY., SATURDAY MORNING.—We are pleased to observe Dr. Buchanan, coroner, has recovered from his recent indisposition, and is, as usual, attentive to his duties.

COACH AND BOATS FOR SALE—We have a good, serviceable engine and boiler, which can be bought low for cash can be seen at the Democrat office. If $800 upon a Louisville banking house.

WORKERS HANG HIM—A gentleman who has just returned from a tour through the South states that he heard many violent accusations over that of John C. Breckinridge came where they would hang him. Such ingratitude.

A QUEEN PAPER—Our Memphis exchanges relate that an emissary from the North at rive's Point, below Memphis, so exasperated the people that they arrested him, and after consultation, put him in a barrel, beat it up, and then rolled him down the bluff into the Mississippi river.

PENNY CATTLE—Meers, W. S. & M. II Kendall, of Bourbon county, shipped to the steamboat New Orleans, for New Orleans, five-hundred head of prime Christmas cattle, weighing upwards of two thousand pounds each. They were fed twisters in Bourbon county, Ky., and are without doubt the best lot of fat cattle ever shipped from Louisville.

WORD TO STATE EXCHANGER—We have been reading the Daily Democrat to exchange to weekly papers throughout the state for a number of years past without any change whatever. If any publisher wishes the Daily Democrat in exchange for weekly upon payment of the difference we will forward the Daily Democrat.

THE NEWS—All eyes are turned towards the National Capital, and the dispatches from thence are fraught with interest. The intelligence is that foreign slaves will be given to the rebels for weekly. If any publisher wishes the Daily Democrat in exchange for weekly upon payment of the difference we will forward the Daily Democrat.

OUR RELATIONS—As far as our relations with foreign powers is concerned, all agree that our own interests are concealed and lost. The dispatches are in their usual columns, and tell the sad story of alienation and anger, threatened revolution and civil war.

THE MAIL—Louisville is blessed with an admirable mail arrangement. Not long since the mail was sent via Mitchell and is now conveniently delayed several hours each day. Now the western mail comes daily. The eastern mail comes twice as fast as formerly. By this capital arrangement we receive our St. Louis papers in the morning subsequent to publication. Certainly Louisville has reason to be grateful for the watchful care her business interests receive from the hands of government.

CRR COURTS—The business yesterday was of a trifling nature. A party of young fellows, charged with attempting to raise counterfeiting money, were tried upon their giving bonds for their future good conduct. A drunken man gave his bond before justice of St. Louis, and leaves a family and a numerous tribe of friends to mourn his sudden and unfortunate death.

Mrs. BOYD—Mrs. Boyd, of the Silver Moon yesterday. She was bound for Paducah.

AN ERIN—An Erin arrived yesterday with 250,000 loaves of bread will be distributed in Louisville, by the Relief Committee.

NOTICE—A reward is offered for the recovery of the body of Francis Jones, who was lost overboard from the steamboat D. G. Taylor, on her last trip up, about near Memphis. Mr. Jones was an old and much respected resident of St. Louis, and leaves a family and a numerous tribe of friends to mourn his sudden and unfortunate death.

J. O. DALTON—He was caught tampering with slaves in Graves county, Ky., was ordered to leave last week and take the consequences.

THE LINDENWOOD—Bourbon Jean, Mrs. M. Bowman, living in the lower end of Graves county, while hunting a few days since, was accidentally shot and killed by one of the neighbors, who was with him at the time.

DRUGSTORE—Early Daniels of Cincinnati, accepts the claim of Gen. Nugent, of St. Louis, to catch a 3 year old Silver Hush colt, and names a year old, sired by Cassius M. Clay, Jr., to go in May or June next at Cincinnati or St. Louis, for $5,000 a side.

VERY STUDENT DEATH—Yesterday morning, Conner Buchanan held an inquest upon the remains of Mrs. Mary N. Avery, of First District, Dr. J. R. Thompson of Clermont, Dr. R. H. Kirtz of Logan, for the Third District, Vice President, and the following gentlemen were elected Directors, viz.: For the First District—R. W. Scott, of Franklin, Abram Buford, of Woodford, O. H. Burbridge, of Bourbon, William Wardell, of Fayette, George L. Forman, of Mason. For the Second District—Oliver Mallory of Jefferson, W. A. Cooke, of Merton, S. T. Drane, of Shelby, George D. Garrison, of J. B. O'Bannon, of Jefferson. For the Third District—J. R. Barrick, of Barren, J. S. Phelps, of Christian, J. T. Towles, of Henderson, R. C. Harrel, of Union, Wm. B. Mason, of Lyon.

The Directors held a meeting and J. W. Tate was re-elected Treasurer, and H. H. Gratz Secretary, at a salary of $900 per year. The Board solicited propositions from county organizations for holding the next fair.

NATIONAL TURNPIKE ROAD COMPANY—It will be seen from the writer's report of Messrs. Churchill, Ormsby & Hahn, in another column, that the County Judge has established the National Turnpike Road Company. This road will commence at the intersection of Third and Kentucky streets, and is to follow the line of Third street extended, until it reaches the land belonging to the House of Refuge and Singing Park, thence along the outer line of the House of Refuge, and then turn to the right, the line of J. W. H. Churchill, thence a southward course to the line of Third street extended, thence with the course of Third street to the center of Mrs. Christian's land, a distance of 23 miles. The propertyholders through whose land the proposed road is to run have released the right of way to the Company. It is a matter of surprise that this road had not been built years ago. Persons owning property in that direction from the city, not more than two miles distance, have been compelled to travel three and four miles of the worst possible dirt road in order to get their produce to market. The effect of this road, when completed, will be to enhance the value of all the property within reach of it, a heavy per centage. The road from Kentucky street to the Park will be good, and will feel well, and cannot fail to be by far the most attractive driving road from the city. We think it behoves every owner of property in the neighborhood of the route to lend hearty cooperation to the enterprise, and seek liberally so that the road may be speedily and well built. Heretofore there have been several abortive attempts to build a road in that direction. The well known energy and enterprise of the gentlemen who have now taken the matter in hand promises a successful result. But they must have prompt material aid from persons who are to be benefited by the road if it cannot be built. There should no lagging behind, and waiting for a few individuals to do what properly belongs to them.

Amusements.

HARVEY—The astounding dexterity and facility of this most extraordinary Wizard is the talk of the town. He has all the great features of the better-known necromancers, together with immense and various resources of his own. We are pleased to observe the improvement in the attendance at the Masonic Temple. This afternoon he will give an exhibition for families and children, to which the admission for adults will be twenty-five cents, and for children ten cents. The prices at night are fifty and twenty-five cents.

We trust that our readers will remember the choice intellectual entertainment promised for next Tuesday night, by Mr. Whiting, the celebrated elocutionist, at Mortar Hall. From evening to evening of Mr. Whiting's powers, we have no hesitation in pronouncing him a great dramatic reader.

THEATER—The charming beneficent, Mr. Phoenix, deserved the Mac compliance tendered to her by citizens in the large and fashionable saloons, together with the pleasure of the audience, and the pleasure of the performers, as the Whelton Troubadour, was most unusually funny. In the afternoons, as Lord Fingal, in the Irishman in France, he was also particularly brilliant, whiles Phoenix, as Hulah Corralifer, she a haughty girl, shone as the sun shines in her bright nights. To-morrow night these talented artists take their leave, appearing in the Cruikshank and the Yankee Housekeeper.

BREVITIES—Mr. Crawford, of Georgia, writes to Washington that that State is certain for secession. Stephens writes to him on the same subject.

McPHERSON—Meers, W. S. & M. II Kendall, of Bourbon county, shipped to the steamboat New Orleans, for New Orleans, five-hundred head of prime Christmas cattle, weighing upwards of two thousand pounds each.

They were fed twisters in Bourbon county, Ky., and are without doubt the best lot of fat cattle ever shipped from Louisville.

AN ERIN—An Erin arrived yesterday with 250,000 loaves of bread will be distributed in Louisville, by the Relief Committee.

NOTICE—A reward is offered for the recovery of the body of Francis Jones, who was lost overboard from the steamboat D. G. Taylor, on her last trip up, about near Memphis. Mr. Jones was an old and much respected resident of St. Louis, and leaves a family and a numerous tribe of friends to mourn his sudden and unfortunate death.

Mrs. BOYD—Mrs. Boyd, of the Silver Moon yesterday. She was bound for Paducah.
